Lelooska Foundation and Cultural Center

December 14, 2016

Dear Friends,

We all strive to make a deeper connection in our world, to find our sense of place and value, our passion, our awakening. Each day that I find myself on the grounds of the Lelooska Cultural Center, I find that connection.

Every day we invest our resources in the things we believe in. The choices we make in these investments help shape and enrich our communities, our families, and inevitably, our world. I see the effect of my choices every week through my interactions with the children who come to our school programs. I have the chance to share my knowledge of Native Cultures and see the glint in their eyes as their world grows a bit larger than they thought it to be. There is no better feeling than the moment when I connect with a child and their enthusiastic questions. It is a powerful privilege to create this type of impact in these young people.

I believe in what we have done and what we continue to do each day at the Lelooska Cultural Center. I see the impact of shared knowledge and experiences every time a parent approaches me and says that they came when they were a child and they are so grateful and excited to have the opportunity to share this experience with their children. The goals and impact of what started with our family has grown to become larger than any one of us. I have come to realize that I am a part of something that transcends time and that has a life altering effect upon everyone who experiences it.

Literally, hundreds of thousands of people have been impacted by what we continue to do at the Lelooska Cultural Center. This is not possible without you. You choose to invest your resources- whether that be time, money, or expertise in helping us to build the positive educational environment which makes this all possible. It is an extraordinary thing to witness and I am excited for what the future holds.

Please help us by continuing to fund this resource for future generations.

Thank you,
